This week we are celebrating World Book Day.

Did you know World Book Day is a charity on a mission to help change children's lives by making reading together and reading for pleasure a habit for life?

"World Book Day changes lives through a love of books and shared reading. Our mission is to promote reading for pleasure, offering every child and young person the opportunity to have a book of their own."

This week, we shall have different Facebook Posts to help celebrate World Book Day.

Today, please could you think of a question you would like to ask our local author, Chloe Wilson, who wrote the book, 'The Mermaid of Loughrigg Tarn' by either commenting below or by sending it to: snowyowls@allithwaite.cumbria.sch.uk by Tuesday at 5pm.

To continue celebrating World Book Day this week, Teacher-turned-rapper MC Grammar has created an official song for World Book Day 🎵

The song tells the story of the rapper embarking on a journey to find a new book to spend his free World Book Day voucher on 📖

Listen to the song and count how many books he mentions in his song 🎧
